FROM THE CEO

As we reflect on 2024, we see a year defined by rising need and lasting generosity. As costs increased and benefits remained uncertain, more families turned to local pantries and meal programs for steady support. Because of your compassion, Golden Harvest distributed nutritious food, strengthened hunger relief partners, and ensured access for seniors, children, and working parents across our region. Your generosity made it possible for volunteers and staff to pack boxes, serve hot meals at The Master's Table Community Kitchen, and support a growing number of neighbors who relied on us throughout the year. Across our 24 counties, partners worked long hours, neighbors rallied for one another, and community efforts like It's Spooky to Be Hungry helped meet the growing need and energized local support.

This year reminded us of the power of community. Even as FY24 concluded and emergency response work began following Hurricane Helene, our network stepped forward with compassion, resilience, and a shared belief that no one should face hunger alone.

Thank you for standing with Golden Harvest Food Bank. Together, we are building a hunger-free tomorrow for every neighbor we serve.

With gratitude,

Amy Breitmann

CLIENT SPOTLIGHT

Rasie began visiting the Lincoln County Food Pantry to help stretch his meals with fresh groceries, and he quickly found steady support each time. The vegetables, soups, salmon, raisins, and pantry staples he receives have helped him for the last several months, offering relief when making ends meet is difficult. What stands out most is the consistency and care the pantry provides every other Thursday, giving neighbors a reliable place to gather and receive help close to home. "It's helped me out a whole lot," Rasie shared, grateful for the comfort and stability it brings.

Together, we make sure nutritious food reaches every community, one pantry visit at a time.

OUR VOLUNTEERS

Across our region in 2024, volunteers played a vital role in keeping food on the table for families facing uncertainty. Over the course of the year, they contributed 16,350 hours of service, giving their time to ensure nutritious food reached every corner of our region. They packed senior boxes and weekend bags, sorted donated produce, and helped distribute food at Mobile Markets across our 24 counties. They also served hot meals at The Master's Table and supported our partner agencies with daily operations. They rallied their neighborhoods, workplaces, and churches, reminding all of us what it looks like when a community comes together with purpose and compassion.
